Comfy Calf Suites

There are many ways to house young dairy calves - hutches, pens, groups, green-houses, or calves tied to a post. Almost as many ways to house calves as there are farms.

We offer a variety of customizable methods for calf housing solutions.

Calf suites make inspection and feeding of calves faster and easier, compared to enclosed shelters.

The design of the comfy calf suite helps improve the health of your calves by providing better air quality (having open tops) and reducing their contact with disease (isolating each calf with the plastic sanitary dividers).

The dividers that make up the comfy calf system remove quickly and easily, when required, making cleaning very simple.

Group penning is an option with the easy removal of dividers as your calves mature.

Individual Calf Houses

Individual plastic calf housing provides for great bio-security, ventilation and heat protection for young calves.

Sorting Gates

Our automatic cow sorting system provides a separation of animals by any given parameters.

To sort the specific cow from the herd an operator can enter a code on the remote control, and this cow will be identified by the system and sent to an assigned pen or pass on to an exit.
